VPK A and B

We would first like to say that VPK A&B hope our families had an amazing holiday. It's hard to believe how quickly December went by, but not before we were able to have some fun. Our month was full of learning all about the holidays that fall in December, reviewing letter A-P and getting ready to show our families how well we can sing.

We are very excited to get a fresh start for the new Year! A winter wonderland of learning is upon us all as we embark into getting to know winter animals, what types of clothes that are worn during winter, and understanding what snow is. Letters Q,R,S,&T along with numbers 11,12,13 will also be in the line up. So let's kick off this brand new year great by remembering our homework to help teach us better and enjoying the rest of the school year.
